

The transfer of the Rainbow assets to Echostar should be permitted.

Voom and it's 30,000 subscribers are in big financial trouble.

There is clearly not room for a 4th competitor. Echostar needs this asset to compete with cable (who currently has way more hi-def offerings).